Dear Sir, Madam, every 5 years we have a review of the GMO moratorium. Do you really think that is fair? When the GMO issue first came in the public eye, 75% of people voted against it. The Government just keeps going, and going, and the public gets less and less interested, so this is not a fair system, and should have stopped a long time ago. How dare the Government allow GMO's into our food system, and we have no way of knowing we eat it. Please consider a GMO free Tasmania!

Yours: Marianne Bekkema
