Dear Sir/Madam,

I would like to register with you my opinion that Tasmania should remain GMO-free.

I believe the marketing advantage of Tasmania remaining GMO-free will outweigh any perceived gains from using GMO products.

In addition, as it is not possible to contain GMO products within the properties in which they are being used, adjoining farms will be impacted by these practices with the potential of contaminating their own crops, or compromising their organic status.

As a grower and consumer of Tasmanian produce, these issues concern me greatly, and I would advocate strongly for Tasmania to remain free of GMO crops.

Yours Sincerely,

Anthony Schindler
