Suspension – Scott Brunton

On 23 November 2021, Office of Racing Integrity stewards conducted a hearing in relation to trainer Mr Scott Brunton presenting a horse, Kuroset, with arsenic above the permitted threshold.

The stewards panel found Mr Brunton guilty and imposed a penalty which included a three month suspension.

Mr Brunton has since appealed the steward's decision to the Tasmanian Racing Appeals Board and has received a stay of the penalty whilst the appeal is heard, meaning that Mr Brunton is free to continue training in the interim.
