WHO WE ARE

Farmer Assist is an Australia-wide online program connecting farmers and landholders with skilled, accredited volunteers to help manage pest animal issues at no cost.

It's run in partnership with the Sporting Shooters' Association of Australia (SSAA) and gives farmers control over selecting experienced members to support wildlife management on their properties.

Our focus is on practical pest control, conservation and animal welfare through ethical and responsible practices. By providing a simple jobs board and support network, we assist farmers in reducing the impact of pest animals and improving overall farm sustainability.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Our mission is simple: To support agricultural productivity and environmental sustainability through ethical, responsible and proficient wildlife management undertaken by accredited conservation volunteers.

- We provide farmers with competent, insured conservation volunteers for wildlife management.
- Strengthen connections between rural communities and the SSAA community.
- Improve environmental and agricultural outcomes by reducing the impacts of overabundant wildlife and predators.
- Demonstrate through data collection that ground shooting by conservation volunteers is a humane, effective wildlife management tool.

Protecting farms and rural properties of all sizes

The SSAA Farmer Assist Program provides a structured pathway for farmers to access skilled, ethical, and insured conservation volunteers to assist with wildlife and pest management. Participation in the program requires strict adherence to the program rules, responsibilities, and code of practice.

FARMER TESTIMONIALS

"Farmer Assist is definitely the way to go if you have an unwanted wildlife problem on your property. The quick, easy and effective SSAA process had us in touch with responsible shooters who have come out and helped us to significantly reduce the impacts of pests on our crops and grazing lands."

Andrew, Hannaford

We found the couple who came to us were very thoughtful and cared for our land...

"A great response from my ad allowed me to select and meet some good quality people who are becoming very valuable to my little business in trying to get a more environmental and economic balance."

Roger, Roma
